

PARTNERSHIP OPPORTUNITY

HealthLit4Kids in Tasmanian primary schools

As a social enterprise, HealthLit4Everyone relies on partnerships with like-minded organisations to support our work.

What your support will provide

Facilitated delivery and implementation of the HealthLit4Kids program in Tasmanian primary schools.

Tasmania

Education

$300,000

Why this is important

Schools are a focus for children's learning and provide access to children's extended networks and the community, making them the perfect setting for maximising health literacy development impact.

How your investment will be used

Your investment will be used to sponsor 30 Tasmanian primary schools to implement HealthLit4Kids.

Community impact of your support

Delivery of this project will result in:

- an increased number of Tasmanian primary schools that can respond to the health literacy needs of their students, staff and communities
- teachers with increased confidence and competence to deliver health education and develop health literacy
- greater school community awareness and understanding of health literacy.

Why health literacy?

Health literacy – how we find, understand and use health and wellbeing information and services – impacts our quality of life through its influence on our health, our education, our social supports and even how productive and successful we are in life.

How healthy, educated and successful we are in life influences our quality of life, our family's quality of life and the lives of others in the community around us.

Health literacy is an essential asset for healthy, happy and productive individuals and communities.

To find out more about this opportunity or to discuss other projects or ways to work with HealthLit4Everyone, contact:

Rosie Nash
CEO

+61 400 341 758

rnash@healthlit4everyone.org.au